17. FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

a) Capital management

The Company manages its capital to ensure that it will be able to continue as a going-concern while maximizing the return to stakeholders through the optimization of debt and equity balances.

The capital of the Company consists of items included in equity, net of cash, as follows:

|            | March 31, 2022 | December 31, 2021 |
|------------|----------------|-------------------|
|            | $             | $                |
| Equity     | 32,281,712     | 34,186,845        |

|            | 11,295,125     | 12,623,877        |

The Company manages its capital structure and makes adjustments in light of changes in economic conditions. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may issue equity or return capital to shareholders. No changes were made to the objectives, policies or processes for managing capital during the three-month period ended March 31, 2022 or the year ended December 31, 2021.

b) Fair values of financial instruments

Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. The carrying amounts reported in the unaudited condensed interim consolidated statements of financial position for cash, amounts receivable, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities, approximate their fair values based on the immediate or short-term maturities of these financial instruments. In addition, non-current amounts receivable and the loan payable, although not due in the current year, do not have fair values that differ significantly from their carrying values.

The table below presents the classification of the Company's financial assets and liabilities as at March 31, 2022 and December 31, 2021:

c) Financial risk management objectives

The Company examines the various financial instrument risks to which it is exposed and assesses the impact and likelihood of those risks. These risks may include credit risk, liquidity risk, currency risk and interest rate risk. Where material, these risks are reviewed and monitored.

Notes to the Unaudited Condensed Interim Consolidated Financial Statements

d) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation or commitment that it has entered into with the Company. The carrying amounts of financial assets best represent the maximum credit risk exposure at the reporting date. At March 31, 2022 and December 31, 2021, the Company's financial assets exposed to credit risk amounted to the following:

|                                     | March 31, 2022 | December 31, 2021 |
|-------------------------------------|----------------|-------------------|
|                                     | $             | $                |
| Cash                                | 20,986,587     | 21,562,968        |
| Amounts receivable and prepayments* | 5,794,421      | 4,257,343         |

During the three-month period ended March 31, 2022 and the year ended December 31, 2021, the Company did not hold any financial assets that were impaired. Trade debtors of $4,997,404 are included in amounts receivable as at March 31, 2022 (December 31, 2021 – $3,273,345). Trade debtors are monitored on a regular basis, with reference to the Expected Credit Loss (ECL) impairment model, in order to minimize material aging and to ensure adequate collection.

Historically there have been no significant trade debtor collection issues and the Company does not believe it is subject to significant concentration of credit risk.

Cash is held with reputable banks in Canada, Ireland and the United States. The long-term credit rating, as determined by Standard and Poor's was AA-, BBB- and AA- respectively.

e) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not meet its financial obligations as they become due. The Company has a planning and budgeting process to monitor operating cash requirements, including amounts projected for capital expenditures, which are adjusted as input variables change.

These variables include, but are not limited to, the ability of the Company to generate revenue from current and prospective customers, general and administrative requirements of the Company and the availability of capital markets. As these variables change, liquidity risks may necessitate the need for the Company to issue equity or obtain debt financing.

In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts that give rise to commitments for future minimum payments. The following table summarizes the remaining contractual maturities of the Company's financial liabilities as at March 31, 2022:

|                                          | Within 1 year | 2-3 years | 4-5 years | Over 5 years | Total      |
|                                          | $            | $        | $        | $           | $         |
| Accounts payable and accrued liabilities | 2,814,306     | -         | -         | -            | 2,814,306  |

|                                          | 3,670,659     | 1,519,239 | 962,752   | 5,973,410    | 12,126,060 |
|                                          |               |           |           |              |            |

The Company's operations to date have been financed through the sale of shares, issuance of debt, revenue generated from customers and research and development tax credits. The Company has incurred significant operating losses and negative cash flows from operations since inception and has an accumulated deficit of $50,604,537 as at March 31, 2022. For the three-month period ended March 31, 2022, the Company incurred a net loss of $3,426,260 with postive cash flows from operations of $2,531,057 and capitalized development cost spend of $2,664,862 (2021 - $4,107,862, $698,151 and $1,998,238, respectively).

Notes to the Unaudited Condensed Interim Consolidated Financial Statements

As the Company continues to incur losses and consumes cash, the Company has relied on financing activities to meet its working capital and operating requirements, including funds needed to further develop its software and expand its sales and marketing functions.

The Company has a history of being able to raise funds on the capital markets to meet its ongoing requirements and on April 28, 2021, the Company closed a public equity financing for gross proceeds of $20,125,575 and a concurrent non-brokered private placement for gross proceeds of $2,000,000 (note 11(a)). However, there can be no assurance that, in the future, the Company will be able to raise funding on favorable terms, if at all.

During 2021 and the first three months of 2022, financial markets have been negatively impacted by the ongoing COVID-19 coronavirus pandemic. The continued spread of COVID-19 and the actions being taken by governments, businesses and individuals to limit this pandemic may adversely impact our operations, credit risk, our ability to serve our customers and our ability to raise new funding. This has resulted in significant economic uncertainty, and even though the Company has to date experienced no significant impact to its operations, any potential impact on our future financial results is difficult to reliably measure. The Company is regularly assessing the situation and remains in contact with its partners, customers and suppliers to assess any impacts and risk.

The Directors believe that the Company's cash resources, when combined with the proceeds from customer receipts, will be sufficient to fund operations for at least twelve months from the reporting date of the unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial statements. However, judgement is required to forecast cash flows over future periods. Management has the ability to reduce or delay certain cash outflows were it to be necessary.

f) Currency risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. Currency risk exposure arises from the Company entering into transactions which are denominated in currencies other than its functional currency.

The Company is exposed to currency risk on cash, intercompany balances, accounts payable and accrued liabilities balances, and the loan payable balance that are held in currencies that are not in the transacting entities functional currencies.

As at March 31, 2022 the impact on monetary assets and liabilities of a 5% decrease in the exchange rate between the functional currencies and foreign currencies would increase the net loss by approximately $3.1 million for the three-month period ended March 31, 2022; a 5% increase would decrease the net loss by approximately $3.1 million for the three-month period ended March 31, 2022. The Company currently does not hedge its currency risk. The majority of the Company's revenues and expenses are denominated in Euro and the United States dollar. As a result, revenues and expenses are affected by a change in the value of the Euro and the United States dollar relative to the Canadian dollar. The following table summarizes the effects on revenues, expenses and the net loss as a result of a 5% strengthening of the Euro and the United States dollar when compared to the Canadian dollar: (1)

g) Interest risk

Interest risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of financial instruments will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. An immaterial amount of interest rate exposure exists in respect of cash balances and the loan payable on the unaudited condensed interim consolidated statements of financial position. Up until March 2022, the Company held a loan payable with a fixed interest rate. This was privately-issued, with no secondary market. As a result, the Company was not exposed to cash flow interest rate risk on its loan payable. It was measured at amortized cost. This loan payable balance was fully cleared as of March 31, 2022.

h) Fair value hierarchy

The fair value hierarchy establishes three levels to classify the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. Level 1 fair value measurements are those derived from quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. Level 2 fair value measurements are those derived from inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices). Level 3 fair value measurements are those derived from valuation techniques that include inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs).

At March 31, 2022 and December 31, 2021 the Company had no financial instruments that were measured and recognized on the unaudited condensed interim consolidated statement of financial position at fair value. In addition, there were no transfers between levels during the period.

18. LOSS PER SHARE

Basic and diluted net loss per share was calculated as follows:

|                                                                                     | Three-month period ended March 31, 2022 | Three-month period ended March 31, 2021 |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|
| Numerator: Net loss for the year attributable to ordinary shareholders Denominator: | (3,426,260)                             | (4,071,862)                             |
| Weighted average number of ordinary shares in issue                                 | 77,350,148                              | 68,651,605                              |
| Loss per share (basic and diluted)                                                  | (0.04)                                  | (0.06)                                  |

The Company's potential ordinary shares, which include stock options and warrants to purchase shares of common stock, have been excluded from the computation of diluted net loss per share as the effect would be to reduce the net loss per share. Therefore, the calculation of basic and diluted net loss per share is the same.

The Company excluded the following potential ordinary shares, presented based on amounts outstanding at each year end, from the computation of diluted net loss per share because including them would have had an anti-dilutive effect.

|                                    | March 31, 2022 | March 31, 2021 |
|------------------------------------|----------------|----------------|
| Options to purchase common shares  | 3,098,527      | 2,221,612      |
| Warrants to purchase common shares | -              | 370,900        |
| Deferred share units (DSUs)        | 592,798        | 602,645        |
